Mr. Henry Graham, a well known farmer and stock raiser of this county, has seven pigs of the Poland and Mages stock, littered four months ago, the average weight of which is one hundred and twenty pounds. We would call the attention of our stock raisers to this paragraph and ask for a better record if there is one.

Report of Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury after being in session six days, adjourned Saturday last, and reported the finding of the following bills:

Wm. Hart, shooting with intent to kill and wound. T. L. West, manslaughter. Benjamin Easterling, shooting with intent to kill and wound. Rufus A. White, blackmailing.

Petitions largely signed by citizens of Ohio and Indiana, asking the delegation in Congress from those states to support the bill requiring instruction in the nature and effects of alcoholic drinks and other narcotics in all schools supported wholly or in part by money from the national treasury, have been received and referred to the House committee on education.

It has been reported that T. P. Johnston has gone out of the insurance business. Such is not the case. He has formed a partnership with Mr. Eli M. West. Mr. West will manage the Fire department and Mr. Johnston the Life department. Parties desiring good, safe, reliable insurance, are invited to call and examine companies and rates before insuring.

California Minstrels.

The original California Minstrels will give an entertainment at Rempel's Opera House, Saturday evening, February 27. This company comes to us with the best recommendations. It is an aggregation of artists that calls forth high eulogiums from the press. One of the great features of the show is Todd Hammond's Excelsior band. Mr. Hammond is a New Lexington boy and was accredited with having the best band on the road last season. This company is worthy and will be welcomed by a crowded house.

Mr. L. W. Merrin, special salesman for the well known piano firm of H. D. Munson & Sons, Zanesville, O., will remain in Logan for several days and will exhibit some of the best makes. This firm is one of the leading and most reliable music firms in the country. Parties thinking of purchasing or exchanging will do well to consult the general agent, who is stopping at the Rempel house, and get prices and terms direct, instead of through sub agencies and commission men. Robert Motherwell, David A. Miller, Albert Stiers and Cap Bowen, have recently purchased of this firm.

New Coal Firm.

We would call the attention of our readers to the new advertisement of Messrs Michie & Culver. Both of these gentlemen are among the most enterprising of our citizens, and are thoroughly reliable. Albert Michie is the Secretary of the Logan Gas and Coke Company, and Ruben Culver Cashier of the People's Bank, and are too well and favorably known to need an extensive introduction. The coal which they offer for sale comes from the Raccoon Coal Company, at Starr, O., and is said to be unexcelled for domestic, as well as manufacturing uses. Do not forget Michie & Culver when you want coal.

Report of Grand Jury.

To the Hon. Silas H. Wright, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, Hocking Co., Ohio.

The Grand Jury of the Court of Common Pleas of said county, of the February Term, 1886, beg leave to report that they have been in session six days, and herewith return to the Court the indictments presented by said jury:

We have carefully examined into all such matters as have legitimately come to our notice, having examined over forty witnesses, covering eight cases and presented five bills and ignored three cases considered by us. The business has been transacted in as expeditious a manner as possible.

During our session we have visited the County Jail and made a complete examination thereof, and find that the rules prescribed by the Court for the care thereof and for the government of its inmates, have been carried out and properly enforced.

We found said Jail in as clean and wholesome a state as the condition of the building would permit the Sheriff to keep it.

More and better ventilation is needed in said Jail from the want of sewerage from the privy vault therein.

Respectfully submitted, JOHN M. FLOYD, Foreman.

Washington's Birthday.

Exercises commemorative of Washington's Birthday were held in the public schools at this place Monday afternoon.

The programmes followed in the different departments have been kindly furnished us at our request by Supt. W. W. McCray and Col. W. S. Friesner.

We regret very much that we will not be able to print them in full, but will name the young ladies and gentlemen who took part on the occasion.

The essays and declamations were of course appropriate to the occasion, and in the assignment of subjects to the scholars it has been beautiful in the life and character of Washington, and to keep a live among the young the patriotic spirit that gave us liberty.

In the high school, Col. W. S. Friesner principal, the following persons had declamations: Nanette White, Charles Parker, L. Wright, Herbert McCormick, Lou Moore, James Rochester, Mary Smith, Helena Blasius, Lucy Walker, Thos. Wright, Addie Myers and Maggie Donovan.

Essays: Edwina Trish, Annie Keller, Jessie Collins, Estelle Strenitz, Sadie Fickie, Maggie Wellman, Emma Floyd and Clara Slisler.

Orations: Edwin Sanderson, Fred Rochester and Will Moore. Mr. Marshall Harrington was orator of the day.

Hon. Seth Weldy delivered an eloquent address and was followed briefly by A. H. Wilson and O. W. H. Wright. Vocal music was furnished by the scholars and instrumental music by Tennyhill's Orchestra.

Superintendent McCray and Col. Friesner speak highly of Mr. Tennyhill, and return thanks for his kindness in playing for them on that occasion. The exercises throughout were very interesting.

A GRAMMAR.

Miss Kate Bowley, Teacher.

Essays: Cora Wright, Rudie Schwarz, Will Brown, Laura Oakes and Alice Motherwell.

Declamations: Roxie McCracken, Lawrence Stedman, Frank Risley, Alice Armstrong, Cora Parker, Harry Slisler, Sadie Dodd, Lizzie Blasius, Jessie Mansfield, Frank Kittsmler, Della Plunk, Emma Wellman, Jessie Stines, Will Fisher, Harry Vaile, Maggie Wellman and Clara Westenhaver. Hon. O. W. H. Wright addressed the school.

A GRAMMAR.

Miss Emma Brooks, Teacher.

The exercises in this room consisted of orations, essays, declamations and songs. The following persons participated: George Miller, Katie Doyle, Charles Brehm, Charles Larimer, Maggie Crawford, Gustie Becker, Edna Cresap, Anna Halpin, Jas. Martin, George Shaffer, Malcolm Groves, Homer Risley, Walter Rochester, Homer Hanson, Richard Culbertson, John Mullin, Martin Kanode, Pearl Barnes, Theresa Ucker, Gus Kern, Walter Risley, Anna Pierce, Emma Schlagerter, Kate Roller, Fannie Bowen, John McBride, Edwin Risley, Ida Mitchell, Anna Myers, Katie Trish, William Sweeney, Mamie Strenitz, Ida Kanode, Anna White, Laura Brown, Lucy Krieg, Fannie Rathburn, Josie Davenport, Maggie Wyman, Charles Stallsmith, Mamie Wellman, Bell Brooke, Frank Poud, Ed. Rochester, Charles Barker and Bertha Culbertson.

The school was addressed by John A. Smith.

A GRAMMAR.

Miss Alma McCarthy, Teacher.

The scholars taking part in the exercises were: Mary McCray, Barbara Weise, John Schwarz, Frank Blosser, Percy Sandersen, Carrie Lutz, Lydia Beaver, Robt. Sandersen, Louisa Gompf, Ed. Wilkinn, Minnie Deishley, Ed. Hartley, Grace Finney, Cora Burritt, Frank Gage, Edward Beck, Mary Nixon, Ida Steinman, Emma Kennedy, Fred Pierce, Emma Gedecke, Bertha Wright, Sylvester Kittsmler, Bertha Blosser, Will Lytle, Dessie Sanborn, Stella Rathburn, Charley White, Mary Brady, Alice Bradock, Ella Pursell, Rufus Smoot, Cora Pierce, Jennie Faris, Robert Sandersen, Mary Weaver, Cora Rancey, Willie Kleinschmidt, Maude Bright, Alma Keynes, Ed. W. Moriarity.

The school was addressed by Harry Patterson.

A GRAMMAR.

Miss Nan McBride, Teacher.

The orations, essays and declamations were by:

Mary Ruff, Mary Gould, May Wilkins, George Stallsmith, Ella Siskins, Vin Glen, James Foris, Grace Reasoner, Arthur Wilson, Mattie Shaw, John Doyle, Grace Kittsmler, Phoma Fisher, May Kessler, Thomas Doyle, Martin Alltop, Walter Becker, Etta Friesner, Albert Stedem, Kate Gallagher, Esther Burns, Kate McCarthy, Frank Ackers, Grace Martin, Lizzie Vaile, Bertha Myers, Charley Lutz, Etta Deishley, Ralph Pickering, Lulu Burgess, Ella Fox, Jessie McManigal, Charles McManigal, Blanche

Wright, Mary Bell, Ed. Kleinschmidt, Grant Lemon, Lizzie Reynolds, Victoria Rhodes, Lee Grove, Jesse Kanode, May Montgomery, Minnie Palmer, Herbert Shaw and Dillon Sandersen.

Too much credit can not be given the teachers in the several departments for the excellence of the programmes. The scholars were well trained, and discharged their duties with dignity and ability. They were decorous but enthusiastic, and showed plainly that the spirit of '76' is living in the youth of to-day.

A Grand Surprise.

The 79th birthday of Mr. Adam Warthman was celebrated at his home, three miles west of Logan, on the 15th inst., and was a grand surprise.

Little did the old man think that any one was taking note of his birthday, but not so, for there were hearts eagerly and anxiously watching its near approach that they might show their respect for the aged father, and that the relatives might renew their friendship at the old home.

Although the day was rough and the roads almost impassible, at about 10 o'clock the crowd began to gather and kept it up until over a hundred had arrived, all with well filled baskets. Mr. Warthman seemed to be rather overjoyed at seeing so many of his children and grand children coming to see him, yet thought it a little strange at their coming on Monday when he had been looking for them the day before, yet he never mistrusted what was just coming to see him, and was just chatting when the last one came. Happening to be looking out of a window he saw them bringing their baskets and said "I began to know now what was up, and things began to look very plain." He said he wondered at Emma (his daughter, from the west) wanting him to go with her to Mr. Ralston that morning when he had been there the day before, but before they got ready to start to Mr. Ralston's one of his neighbors came with a 'little corn to grind, so he went to grind the corn, intending to go after he got back, but when he returned Mr. Bougher and wife had come and so they concluded that they would stay at home.

After they had all gathered and the horses were well cared for, they repaired to the house where they found the ladies engaged in preparing dinner, and the men in another room engaged in discussing the various topics of the day. At twelve o'clock it was announced that dinner was ready, and all repaired to the dining room where they found the table groaning under a load of various things, such as cakes, pies, chickens and other delicacies, in fact anything that the appetite could desire, was to be found on the table. After they had fully partaken of the grand feast that had been prepared for their reception, grandpa arose to leave the table willing to acknowledge that he had been completely surprised, when he was met by Mr. Hansel, who escorted him to another room where he was presented with an easy chair. On the presentation of the chair he threw up his arms in astonishment, being so overcome that he hardly knew what to say, but allowed the last surprise was better than the first. Mr. Hansel requested him to sit down and get his dinner. Grandpa set down feeling completely bet over the affair, remarking that they should see that all got their dinner. After everybody had had dinner and the fare had been finished clearing off the table they came into the room where the rest were and engaged with them in talking of the events of the day, all well pleased with the joyful time they had. The well wishes of all were that Grandfather Warthman might live to enjoy many such birthday surprises, and his easy chair be a source where he can find rest for his weary limbs in his declining years, and may his pathway be fraught with all the blessings of life that this world can afford.

Fatal Results from a Quarrel.

ATHENS, O., Feb. 21.—Friday night William Hallet died from the effects of a wound received a few nights before in Fenzel's saloon. Hallet was a noted character, and it appears went to the saloon for the purpose of a fight with George Thompson. He immediately began an assault, when Thompson struck him on the back of the head with a piece of board, breaking the skull from one ear to the other. In default of help Thompson is in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury.

Mr. John Roller, of the Sentinel office, has been duly qualified and is now a member of the reportorial force. Any item of news that is handed him, will find its way into the columns of this paper.

FROM THE VINE INVESTED PEAKS OF TENNESSEE.

A Voice From Away Down South in Dixie Land.

DEAR SENTINEL—Thirty years ago I used to read you with great pleasure and profit. I have lived in Tennessee just nine years hence have made some acquaintance with the place and people. I also have many old friends in Hocking county, and should like very much to visit them, but it is not convenient just now. Will you accept some information from the region I am now located in?

Dickson county, Tennessee, is known as one of the high land counties extending from the Cumberland mountains to the Tennessee river. The average elevation is 1,000 feet above the sea. No county of the State or elsewhere can boast of better health, greater advantages of soil or climate, or of a larger variety of crops grown. The mean temperature of this county averages about 58°, range of thermometer when summer and winter are compared, it averages 45°, and an average rain fall of 46 inches.

The farm products of Dickson are varied. Corn is the staple production of the State, and will average from 30 to 50 bushels to the acre. Some raise it higher. Wheat can be raised with great profit. We have a very poor class of native farmers. The citizens of Dickson town and its vicinity are largely from the North. Farmers would clear enough land to raise corn and cotton to do them, and then wear that entirely out. Then they would take away the fence and clear a new piece, and let the old field grow up with bushes and briars—never think of clovering or manuring the ground. Northern people coming here have bought these lands and made good farms out of them. I am acquainted with one man near Dickson town who bought a worn out farm. He went to work and fertilized it and now he has raised as high as 28 bushels of wheat to the acre; corn 50 and 60 bushels, and oats about the same. Irish and sweet potatoes grow in abundance. It is quite common for sweet potatoes to weigh from 6 to 12 lbs; a man told me he raised one that weighed 18 lbs. He was a truthful man.

I knew two men from the North that bought such land four years ago, and this year after taking the first crop of clover for hay, cut the second crop for seed, and if the seed sells at the usual price, they will make enough out of the seed alone to pay for the land, and the third crop will fall down and keep it warm during the winter. Cold weather does not make either wheat or clover to spew out, as in the North. It is a grand country for sheep raising. Some men are coming money at it. We pay no tax on stock of any kind. This State stands third as a tobacco State. By skillful management they can often raise over $100 worth on a single acre. They are about to build a tobacco factory at Dickson. Price of tobacco from $4 to $6.

Yours, &c., GEORGE SINSABAUGH.

NOTICE.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to the firm of J. N. Kessler & Son are requested to call and settle their accounts at their earliest convenience, owing to a change in partnership of their business; Will & Henry Kessler having purchased the entire stock and fixtures.

Thanking the public and community for past favors, we hope by strict attention to business to merit a continuance of the same.

Very Respectfully, KESSLER BROS.

The Mormon and the Chinaman.

[BY ORDERING GAGE.]

A Mormon going southward; A Chinaman going west; They stopped beneath a sign board To set them down to rest.

"Now what a blanketed morn country this is!" the Mormon said; "A bunch of musty gnomes!" And Chin Wong shook his head.

"Oh, what you gals! Mormon?" "Look up and you will know!" The Chinese climbed the sign-board And read "To Mexicans."

"And where you going, heathen?" "To look up!" "And where?" "To look up!" They read the other sign board, "This road to Mexico!"

The Sans Souci hop at Germania Hall last Friday evening was a lovely affair. Among the guests from abroad were Misses Zetta Turnbull, of East Liverpool, Nellie Work, of Logan, Judge Friesner, of Athens, while the attendance of the Lancaster belles and beaux was exceedingly large.

Mr. G. A. Hamberger and Miss Mame went to Logan, Saturday, to see the "Mikado," as guests of Colonel Rempel.

Mr. Mahlon Schaffer was married in Chicago, Monday, to Miss Ella West, daughter of a wealthy real estate dealer.—Lancaster Gazette, 24th.
